Drs. Cook, Burkett To Head DePauw Chemistry Dept.

Dr. Donald J. Cook and Dr. Howard B. Burkett have been appointed heads of DePauw University's department of chemistry, President William E. Kerstetter announced today.

Succeeding Dr. Jervis M. Fulmer, who retires next month after 23 years at the university, the two chemists will serve on an alternating basis for three year periods, beginning with Cook's chairmanship July 1.

Both consistent recipients of major research grants, the two professors were described by the President as "men widely recognized for their ability as teachers and scholars."

"I know," he said, "they will continue the long tradition of excellence and strength in the department of chemistry at DePauw."

Burkett joined the DePauw faculty in 1945 after three years as a research chemist with Eli Lilly and Company, Indianapolis. He was graduated from DePauw in 1938 with distinction and four years later earned the doctorate at the University of Wisconsin.

A native Putnam Countian, Dr. Burkett has performed research under four different grants from the Research Corporation of New York and the Petroleum Research Foundation which is administered by the American Chemical Society.

The Society in 1962 made one of its PRF grants to Burkett for 14 months' research at the University of Washington where he also studied and lectured in 1953-54 on a post-doctoral fellowship.

Burkett is a member of and a visiting lecturer for the American Chemical Society; he is past president of the DePauw-Wabash chapter of Sigma Xi; and a member of the Indiana Academy of Science. He has authored at least 17 articles on chemical research.

A staff member for the past 19 years, Dr. Cook holds degrees from Augustana College (Ill.) the University of Illinois and Indiana University, where he received the Ph. D. in 1944. Like Burkett, Cook has conducted research on grants from the Research Foundation and in 1952-53 was awarded a post-doctoral research fellowship at Purdue.

He has been president of the Indiana Chemical Society, chairman of the chemistry division and treasurer of the Indiana Academy of Sciences, and has conducted summer science institutes for the National Science Foundation at DePauw and Indiana. He served on the Indiana University summer faculty last year.

In 1960-61 Dr. Cook was appointed chairman of the American Chemical Society's national visiting lecturer program and a year later served one year on the administrative staff of the National Science Foundation in Washington.

Before coming to DePauw, the Rockford, Ill., native taught at Augustana and was engaged in industrial research in New York and Cleveland.

Articles by Dr. Cook have been published in a number of professional journals.

By United Press International The nation's motorists set a new record for death on the highways during Memorial Day weekend but traffic experts said the holiday may have been one of the safest in recent years.

With final totals coming in, the traffic death toll had soared well past the previous record of 371 persons killed over a similar period in 1958. The National Safety Council had estimated between 410 and 490 persons would die during this year's 78-hour holiday.

A safety council spokesman said the actual death rate per mile this Memorial Day weekend may have been the lowest in years because motorists drove an estimated 1.6 billion more miles than they did in 1958.

A United Press International count at 5:30 a.m. EDT showed an even 400 persons dead in traffic accidents.

The breakdown in accidental deaths:
Traffic 400
Drownings 55
Planes 5
Miscellaneous 71
Total 531.

California led the nation with 33 traffic deaths, Texas had 27 highway casualties and New York state had 20. Illinois reported 19, Michigan and Pennsylvania had 18 and Oklahoma had 16.

Only four states had perfect states for the weekend: Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii and Rhode Island.

The worst tragedy of the holiday weekend happened when six children burned to death in a Memorial Day fire at Midlothian, Va. Four weekending youngsters and a widow died Sunday when flames devoured a cottage near Hopatcong, N. J.

The worst traffic accident happened near Mazie, Okla., Memorial Day when a two-car crash claimed five lives.

New, Improved Roads Needed

Vacationers, commuters, travelers on business—all recognize the need for new and improved roads. Entire communities in recent years have felt the impact of new roads, or the lack of them.

Because Indiana property owners need information on land acquisition for proposed highways, the Indiana Cooperative Extension Service at Purdue University has published Your Land and Indiana Highways, Mimeo EC-273. Through questions and answers, it deals with government land acquisition, rights and damages, just compensation, and condemnation procedures. Included is a hypothetical calculation of just compensation to a landowner.

The publication, free to Indiana residents, is available from Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, 47907, or from your County Extension Office.

'TRAFFIC LIGHT'

NEW YORK (UPI)—A "traffic light in-the-sky" to help military planes land safely on tiny battlezone air strips by means of a tri-colored shaft of light beaming into the sky is being developed by a watch company.

The landing aid will be about the size of a home movie projector and operate as a stationary searchlight, according to Bulova engineers. After the beam of light is spotted by pilots, they will follow the green shaft of light in the middle of the beam right down to a safe landing. The beam is split into three bands of color — like a stop-and-go light. When a pilot is flying down the green shaft of light he'll make a safe landing.

PATIENT'S RIGHT

NEW YORK (UPI) — A patient has the right to examine records of tests performed while he is hospitalized, a New York civil court judge recently ruled.

The case arose when a New York lawyer, Mrs. Helen Clark, asked for an itemized account of her hospital bill. The bill lumped costs of laboratory tests, but failed to provide records of the tests. She refused to pay and filed suit in civil court. The judge instructed the hospital to send the records, saying "when someone pays for something he is entitled to it."

Alfalfa Must Be Top-Dressed

Alfalfa stands must be top-dressed annually with a high potassium fertilizer to replace the potassium removed in the forage and thus insure continued high yields.

Potassium removal high. One ton of alfalfa will remove 37 pounds of potassium (45 pounds potash-K₂O). This is equal to the potassium in 75 pounds of 0-0-60 (Muriate of Potash). Thus, a 5-ton crop of alfalfa removes 7 times more potassium than the grain alone of a 100-bushel corn crop.

Grasses Rob Potassium. These potassium removal figures are even higher when alfalfa is grown in association with grasses. In addition, grass root systems are much stronger competitors for available soil potassium than alfalfa. Bromegrass, orchardgrass and timothy roots actually rob potassium from alfalfa roots. This is often the reason for loss of alfalfa stand rather than winter-killing, insects or disease.

Phosphorus needed too. The phosphorus requirement for grasses and legumes is only ¼ that of potassium. Maintenance for a medium soil test level requires 60 pounds of phosphorus (expressed as P₂O₅) for a 5-ton hay yield.

Don't overlook lime. A 5-ton crop of alfalfa removes 14 times more calcium than a 100 bushel corn crop. The optimum pH for alfalfa production is between 6.5 and 7.0.

Watch for Boron Needs. Boron deficiency or "yellow top" occurs on alfalfa on some sandy soils in northern Indiana and on many soils of southern Indiana, particularly during dry weather. Symptoms are yellowing of the tops and stunted growth which usually appear on the second and third cuttings.

Fertilizer Recommendations. Soil tests should be used to determine lime and fertilizer needs. Without a soil test, an annual topdressing with 400 pounds 0-10-30 (or similar analysis) is recommended after the first cutting. In areas where boron is deficient, topdress with 20 to 30 pounds of borax per acre or apply fertilizer such as 0-10-30B.

AFLUENT GRANNY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Grandma gets the biggest rush in the baby departments—as the only member of the family able to afford all the fashionable merchandise for the infant set.

Now that baby must have a crib for indoors, a crib for outdoors, a crib for the car and a diversified wardrobe for all occasions, only a fairy godmother could foot the bill, the Cleanliness Bureau reports. Grandma gets tapped for a final reason. Sixty per cent of the grandmas have money from their own jobs or other sources.

Judy Garland
Is Feeling 'Fine'

HONG KONG UPI — Judy Garland, who is suffering from pleurisy, today was reported "feeling fine" and due to leave the hospital within a few days.

The singer-actress was visited this morning by her personal physician, Dr. Lee Siegel, who arrived Sunday from Los Angeles, and by Dr. Harry Colfer, who has been attending her since she was stricken suddenly last Thursday.

Miss Garland had a brush with death. She went into a coma and for a few hours last Thursday she was considered in critical condition.

"Miss Garland did not, as far as I know, have a heart attack, and I do not have any knowledge of her having taken sleeping pills," Siegel said.

Her illness, he said, could be described as "the aftermath of a coma of an unknown origin."

Shastri Likely
Nehru Successor

NEW DELHI UPI — Lal Bahadur Shastri, a champion of compromise, was virtually certain today of succeeding the late Jawaharlal Nehru as India's leader in time of trial.

The former selection of a new prime minister will take place Tuesday in a vote by the 537 parliamentary deputies of the ruling Congress party. Party leaders decided Sunday to recommend Shastri.

A potential party squabble was averted when the other leading candidate, Maroji Desai, announced he was stepping aside, thus clearing the way for the soft-spoken, scholarly Shastri, who is barely five-feet tall.

"I will abide by any decision tendered by the Congress president in respect of who will be the leader of the Congress party in parliament," Desai said after a three-hour meeting of the party's working committee.

Desai's statement referred to the avowed preference of Kumaraswami Kamraj, Congress party president, for Shastri's candidacy. It showed that the majority of the committee supported Shastri and that Desai's chances were hopeless.

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Governor Welsh will take a five-day vacation from the simmering heat of Indiana's pre-convention politics and join the other 49 governors in a conference at Cleveland.

Welsh will go Saturday to the annual conference which ends June 10.

President Johnson is scheduled to speak June 9.

Welsh will return just in time for last minute conferences before his Democratic party's state convention June 12.

Gov. Rockefeller

NEW YORK UPI — Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller and her infant son continued to progress normally today and awaited the return of the governor from California.

Rockefeller was expected to return to New York when he completes his primary campaign tonight in the West Coast state.

A spokesman at New York Lying-In Hospital reported that both Mrs. Rockefeller, who gave birth Saturday, and the baby were "doing fine."

The infant, named Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller Jr., weighed seven pounds, 10 ounces when born, said "This is the most enjoyable press conference I've ever held."

Black Scar Marks Spot Where 2 Racers Died

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — In front of the empty stands at the north end of the straightaway there is a black scar to mark the spot where drivers Eddie Sachs and Dave MacDonald lost their lives at the Speedway.

Cleanup crews marched methodically through the rows of seats Sunday where thousands of horrified spectators watched Saturday as Sachs and MacDonald burned to death in their tangled and flaming racers.

Scraps of paper blew casually across the track where the track of the seven cars had met with a tearing of metal and surge of flaming fuel.

The sweepers cleared empty bottles and trash from under seats. Spectators had fled in momentary panic only hours before when the cars erupted in a torrent of flame.

In the pit used by MacDonald, a young rookie making his first Memorial Day "500" start, this epitaph was scrawled in white chalk on a four foot square blackboard:

To Davy:
"I know a speedway
"In the sky
"Where brave young drivers
"Thunder by
"And all who live
"This racing game
"Must know that fate
"May call their name."

MacDonald's name, number and car sponsor were painted on the opposite wall. The rookie's last name had been misspelled.

Parked in front of MacDonald's empty pit was one of the gold carts used by another crew to run errands about the track.

The neat inscription: "Tombstone Life Special."

Tribe Returning To Victory Field

The Indianapolis Indians return to Victory Field on Tuesday, June 2, to open a six-day homestand against Salt Lake City and Denver, two of the four teams which are waging a battle for first place in the Eastern Division of the Pacific Coast League race.

The seven important intradivision games the Tribe will play with these teams provide an opportunity for the Indians to pick up valuable ground in the standings.

The Salt Lake City Bees, lead-off opponents on the upcoming homestand, will be visiting Victory Field for the first time this year. The Bees boast Bob Will, hard-hitting outfielder, who was clubbing a robust .378, according to recent official averages. It will not be Will's introduction to Victory Field, however, as he played with the 1959 Fort Worth club in the American Association, leading the league that year in runs (101), hits (203), total bases (278), bases on balls (96), and was named to the All-Star team and voted the league's Most Valuable Player.

Following the four Tribe-Bees games ending on Friday, June 5, the Denver Bears, managed by Bill Adair, move in to the Wigwam for a single game on Saturday, June 6, and a twin bill on Sunday.

Tribe Manager Les Moss can counter with some strength of his own against the Bees and the Bears. Marx Staehle, whom many compare with the former Chicago White Sox great second-baseman, Nellie Fox, is hitting at a .376 clip through recent games; Larry Himes, with a .316 batting average; Len Johnston, with a 300-plus mark and newcomer to the roster, Sammy Drake, who has already

Larson Winner Of Ohio Race

NEW BREMEN, Ohio UPI — Jud Larson, Tampa, Fla., driving a car owned by Indianapolis "500" champion A. J. Foyt, took the 30-lap feature U. S. Auto Club sprint car event Sunday afternoon.

Foyt drove the pace car for the event and eight drivers from the Indianapolis "500" were in the competition. Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., was the only one to finish in the top division with a third place.

Larson's time was 10:28.26 as he nosed out Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa. Branson's 19.25 seconds was the fastest in qualifications.

Larson also took the first eight-lap heat in a new track time of 2:39.41.

Some 5,300 paid fans braved light sprinkles. There were several spinouts but no one was injured.

Mauck has been a regular on the Anderson team for three years. He ranks in the upper one-third of his class.

Ward Insisted On Fuel Blend

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. UPI — Rodger Ward, twice a champion and runnerup in Saturday's 500 mile Speedway auto race, said Sunday he insisted on running with a fuel blend rather than gasoline.

Eddie Sachs, one of two drivers killed in a fiery crash at the start of the race, had an identical Ford engine, but it was powered by gasoline.

Fuel experts indicated that gasoline, under certain conditions, is a greater fire hazard than fuel blend.

Ward said his mechanics made engine changes "at my insistence" the night before the race, so he could run with an exotic fuel blend rather than with gasoline as was suggested by Ford officials.

"I would have felt apprehensive using gasoline in the race," Ward said. "Broken bones aren't so bad, but the thing I fear most is burns."

Dave Worried About His Car

EL MONTE, Calif. UPI — Dave MacDonald, a quiet but usually confident race driver, was worried about the way his car handled on the turns but stayed in the Indianapolis 500-mile race because he felt "obligated."

"This was the first time Dave ever drove a car he didn't feel was right," George MacDonald, the 27-year-old driver's father, said following the tragic Memorial Day crash in which MacDonald and Eddie Sachs lost their lives.

The elder MacDonald, who watched the flaming crash via closed circuit television at the Los Angeles Sports Arena, said in an interview with the San Gabriel Valley Tribune that "he told me the car seemed to lift and float on the turn."

"Dave said the trouble was apparently caused by the fact the car was built for 12-inch wheels but had to be converted to 15-inch wheels to meet Indianapolis rules," said the father.

MacDonald's car went into a spin "as he came out of the northwest turn at the start of the home stretch, Sachs car hit his and the multi-car crash developed."

Sachs' Parents Saw His Death

GREENSBORO, N. C. UPI — The parents of driver Eddie Sachs watched the crash that killed their son Saturday over a closed circuit telecast here of the Indianapolis 500 race.

Stunned with grief, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sachs of Greensboro, along with other relatives, filed quietly from the Greensboro Auditorium after realizing that their 37-year-old son had been killed.

"We immediately realized that Eddie was the one as soon as we found out his car was involved in the crash," Sachs said. "He was always like that. Right in the middle of things."

The relationship between the late driver and his family was close, even though Sachs left home after attending Grimsley High School and later Edwards Military Academy. The racer's home was officially listed as Detroit.

"He borrowed a car to race at one of these small tracks. Nobody knew who he was then. He wrecked his first car. He was about 17 years old then."

Wins Top Honors

Muncie, Ind. — Roland Leverenz and Marilyn Celender walked off with top honors yesterday in the Muncie Spring Open tennis tournament.

Leverenz of Indianapolis, defeated Pete Kendall of Marion for the men's title, 6-0, 6-3. Marilyn Celender also of Indianapolis grabbed top women's honors, whipping Martha Karabell of Whiting, 10-8, 0-6, 8-6.

Fails In Record Try

Hagen, Germany — Romania's Yolanda Balas narrowly missed bettering her own women's world high jump record yesterday when she failed at the 1.92-meter mark in an international track and field mark. Her record is 1.91 meters or 6 feet, 3½ inches. She easily won the event with a jump of 6-1½.

25,000 Cheer Clay

Accra, Ghana — More than 25,000 wildly cheering fans watched world heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's exhibition here Saturday night.

Clay boxed three rounds each with his younger brother, Rudolph, and with Ghanaian lightweight Jcjo Miles.

At the end of the exhibition, Clay said:

"You should see me in action when I'm serious. What you just saw was the result of a deal with these two men. I am the king of the world. Isn't it something for a man to enter the ring 182 times and come out without a scratch."

Gets Two Aces

Wayne Shirliff, a 15-year-old Chatham High School student, canned two aces yesterday afternoon on the same 18-hole round at Willow Brook golf course.

Carding a five-under par score of 50 on the short 18, Shirliff aced the 105-yard 11th hole and followed it up with another on No. 14 which measures 100 yards.

If he wasn't the least bit excited it probably was because Shirliff now has accomplished the once-in-a-lifetime feat five times.

FREEDOMLAND

NEW YORK UPI — This is the fifth season for Freedomland, the entertainment center in the Bronx. Weekend operations started May 16, and the amusement park will be open daily June 20 through September.

HOBBY SALES

NEW YORK UPI — A drug store trade journal reports that hobby goods manufacturers see a 5 per cent rise in retail sales volume. A hot item again this year, says the Drug Journal, is the miniature auto racing set, sales of which could go up to $140 million this year.

Attention Centers On California

WASHINGTON UPI — The battle among GOP presidential contenders for convention delegates steps up this week, with contests in eight states highlighted by the crucial California primary.

There were indications that the choice delegates in some other states could be influenced by the outcome of Tuesday's California race between Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

A United Press International survey shows that Goldwater, who picked up 13 more delegates in Mississippi Saturday, is far ahead of the field with 327 pledged first-ballot votes at the GOP convention starting July 13. The total needed for nomination is 655.

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania is second with 64, including 61 "favorite son" votes from his home state. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has 46 and Rockefeller is running fourth with 35. Rockefeller is favored by pollsters to win the 86 at stake in California, however.

In addition to California, Republicans will choose convention delegates this week in Nebraska, New York, South Dakota, Washington, Alabama, Colorado and Hawaii.

10-YEAR REBELLION ABOUT OVER—Arrow indicates Nagaland in India, where the fierce Naga tribesmen—the oldest remember head-hunting—have been fighting the government for independence for a decade, but now have agreed to a cease-fire, expecting to become the sub-continent's smallest state. Here is a Naga warrior in full regalia, and here is a view of one of their villages. The "crosses" on the roofs mean the occupant has entertained the village at a feast. There are 369,200 Nagas in the area, a bit larger than Connecticut. The long guerrilla fighting has cost them an estimated 2,000, against around 500 for the government.

the United States paved the way for talks on setting up a Soviet consulate in New York, Chicago or San Francisco and an American consulate in Leningrad. U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko signed the documents in Spiridonovka Palace, a Foreign Ministry ceremonial building. The treaty, hammered out in negotiations that began Sept. 27, must be ratified by the U. S. Senate and will formally come into being upon exchange of instruments of ratification in Washington.

Court Upholds Ohio Statute

WASHINGTON UPI—The Supreme Court ruled 8 to 1 today that federal law allows Ohio's "Fair Trade" statute. The state law permits a manufacturer to fix a state-wide price for brand-name goods. Speaking for the majority, Justice Arthur J. Goldberg said Congress has approved state statutes sanctioning "resale price maintenance schemes such as those involved here."

"Whether it is good policy to permit such laws is a matter for Congress to decide," the opinion said. "Where the statutory language and the legislative history clearly indicate the purpose of Congress, that purpose must be upheld." Justice John M. Harlan dissented.

The decision came in a case appealed by Hudson Distributors, Inc., which sells drugs in Cleveland. Hudson sued Eli Lilly & Co. and the Upjohn Co., two large drug firms, to get a ruling on the statute. The case was filed in the Ohio Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County.

MOSCOW UPI—Hints by the Russians during the week-end indicated today that the Soviet Union is moving rapidly

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 425 The Confederate hero of Fort Sumter and Bull Run in 1861, was back in action effectively in May and June, 1864. After having been on sick leave and in the bad graces of President Davis, 1862-63, and then relegated to a minor command in the Carolinas, Pierre G. T. Beauregard was sent to the Department of Virginia to supersede George E. Pickett. As mentioned here earlier (No. 421), while Meade's Army of Potomac was undergoing a succession of bloody reverses in May in the U. S. Grant-directed effort to reach Richmond from the north of the James, Maj. Gen. Ben Butler was striking with the 40,000 men of the newly constituted Army of the James toward Richmond from the south side of the river. Butler reached a key position 15 miles from Richmond, and only about eight miles from Petersburg. Beauregard was faced with his toughest job in the war in stopping Butler. He wrested a victory at Drewry's Bluff, May 15-17. Butler was enabled to get away in a rainstorm, but found himself in a bottle at the place called Bermuda Hundred. This was at once corked up with a Confederate earthwork such as had forestalled Grant at Spotsylvania, but Butler was able, subsequently, to link up with Grant as Lee had anticipated (see message here). Grant's next move with Meade's army met still more costly resistance at Cold Harbor, where he had been anticipated again by Confederates dug in as before. Line after line of men were sent against infantry and artillery firing at very short range, and thousands of men fell in minutes. One unit, 25th Massachusetts Regiment, had 70 per cent casualties.

Grant was made to realize he was up against a new kind of warfare. His tactics changed. His next battle, at Petersburg, became prolonged siege, like Vicksburg.

Message scrawled by Gen. R. E. Lee to Gen. P. T. Beauregard on a crucial day, "If you cannot determine what troops you can spare the Dept. cannot. The result of your delay will be disaster. Bitter troops will be with Grant tomorrow." 27/3/40 ap R.E.L.

Indiana wound up the 78-hour Memorial Day weekend with 11 traffic fatalities, a toll somewhat lower than was expected and lower than rate average no greater than a non-holiday period.

The fatalities between 6 p.m. Thursday and midnight Sunday raised the year's total to at least 459 compared with 444 a year ago.

However, the rate of fatalities was only one every seven hours, just about the same rate as prevails day in and day out in Indiana over an entire calendar year.

Supreme Court Acts On Oaths

WASHINGTON UPI — The Supreme Court today struck down two state-required oaths challenged by 64 employees of the University of Washington at Seattle.

Justice Byron R. White spoke for a seven-man majority. Justices Tom C. Clark and John M. Harlan dissented.

White said both oaths are couched in vague language. They offend the Constitution's guarantee of "due process of law," he said.

One oath, required by a 1931 statute, is for teachers only. It speaks of "reverence of law and order and undivided allegiance to the government of the United States."

The other, a 1955 amendment to the state's Subversive Activities Act, is required of all state employees. They must swear they are not members of the Communist party "or knowingly of any other subversive organization."

The complaining professors and employees sued in a special three-judge federal court to have both oaths declared unconstitutional. The lower court upheld the non-Communist oath, but did not rule on the other one.

The letter ran like this: "Why die when you can live... Your health and life will not hold up much longer if you persist in disobeying me... for I am the law..." Mrs. Hackworth, 60, polled 11,659 votes for governor in the May 2 primary. She runs a house of prayer in Brenham. She twice sent threat letters to President Eisenhower and was committed to a mental institution.

Yield Trick Gracefully Before It Can Be Used

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD
"Not through the Iron Duke," East remarked as he played the king of spades at the first trick. East prided himself on having a remark for every occasion; it was too bad he didn't have an equal number of good plays.

noting with disappointment that he had to lose a trump trick eventually. Then he cashed the top clubs and ruffed a club. As it happened, the clubs broke 3-3, so that dummy's last two clubs were good. Since declarer could get back to dummy with the jack of spades he could not lose his contract.

GIVES UP TRUMP

South actually led a trump, giving East his trick. If East were foolish enough to return a spade, South would make an overtrick. East actually led a diamond, giving West his two tricks, but declarer then got to dummy with the jack of spades to discard his losing spade on a good club.

Go back to the first and see what happens if East plays his low spade instead of covering dummy's queen with the king. South gets his spade trick in dummy before he can make good use of it.

Declarer leads out the top trumps but then cannot get back to the dummy's clubs even if he succeeds in setting them up. He must lose a trump, a spade, and two diamonds.

Look for this sort of position in actual play. If you must give the opponents a trick, hand it over before it can be used effectively.

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S K 10 5 H Q 10 9 D 9 5 3 2 C Q J 10. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts. The flat distribution suggests a response of one notrump, but your first duty is to support partner's major suit when you can. (Copyright 1964, General Features Corp.)

Colleges Hold Commencements

By United Press International
Nearly half of Indiana's universities and colleges sent thousands of graduates into the world to seek their fortunes during the Memorial Day weekend and today.

Fifteen schools held commencements Saturday, Sunday and today, and some of them in outdoor ceremonies during which the weather cooperated by furnishing rainless skies although temperatures were on the cool side.

Commencements were held this morning or scheduled for later in the day at Evansville College, Fort Wayne Bible College, Goshen College, Huntington College, Manchester College and St. Mary of the Woods College.

Chill Extends South To Gulf

By United Press International
Unseasonably chilly air today tumbled records from the Northern Plains to the Gulf of Mexico.

Low temperature marks for the date or so far so late in the season included 23 at International Falls, Minn.; 42 at Topeka, Kan., and 38 at Waterloo, Iowa.

A reading of 41 at Concordia, Kan., was the lowest ever recorded there in June. Other record lows were San Angelo, Tex., 48; Wichita Falls, Tex., 51; Waco, Tex., 52; and Lake Charles, La., 60.

Temperatures dipped to the 30s in New England.

Heavy rain fell today in the southern Appalachians at Greenville, N.C., receiving 2.68 inches in six hours.

TEEN TWIST
NEW YORK UPI — Today's teen females aged 20-29 will be to 'twist' consumer goods markets into a new shape when they're in their twenties.

Population projections prepared by the Department of Commerce indicate that by 1975 the U.S. male population aged 20-29 will have jumped 47 per cent over the 1965 level, says Meinhard-Commercial Corp., factoring and financing subsidiary of C.I.T. Financial Corporation.

Females aged 20-29 will be up 45 per cent, the firm adds.

Based on records of tens of thousands of home purchases, the National Home Corp. reports that many people prefer to order a new home in the springtime.

Add one-half cup of chocolate chips to the crumbly mixture for date bars.
